次のトルコ民話を読み、後の問いに答えなさい。

Nasreddin lived in Turkey. He was a good man, but not very rich, and his wife wasn't happy about it.

'You pray to God every day, but nothing changes. We are always poor!' she said. 'I don't understand it. God doesn't help us. Perhaps he doesn't like us!'

5 'Of course God likes us,' answered Nasreddin. 'He loves everyone. Be quiet, wife!'

But his wife never stopped talking about money. In the end, Nasreddin prayed to God: 'Please send me a thousand gold coins. Then my wife can be happy. But remember, I don't want nine hundred and ninety-nine, and I don't want one thousand and one. I want exactly one thousand coins.'

10 Every morning Nasreddin prayed to God for his gold coins. His neighbor Ahmet, a rich man, heard him over the garden wall every day. He laughed and said to his wife: 'Listen! Nasreddin says he doesn't want nine hundred and ninety-nine gold coins. I can't understand him. Everybody wants gold and Nasreddin is very poor. I'm going to throw nine hundred and ninety-nine gold coins over the wall into his garden. ^① What's he going to do then? Let's see.'

15 The next morning, when Nasreddin began praying, a bag of gold coins suddenly came over the garden wall and hit Nasreddin on the head.

Nasreddin opened the bag and then smiled.

20 'Come here, wife,' he called. 'Look! God is listening to me.' His wife laughed and sang.

An hour later, Ahmet came to the door.

'How are you, Nasreddin?' he asked. 'I can hear laughing and singing in your house.'

25 'We are happy,' answered Nasreddin, 'because God is good to us. Look,' he said and he opened the bag in his hand. 'I asked God for gold and here it is.'

Ahmet smiled.

'How many gold coins are in the bag exactly?' he asked. 'You asked for one thousand, I think. Let's count them.'

30 'Why?' asked Nasreddin. 'God can count, you know!'

But Ahmet didn't listen. He began to count carefully. Then he said, 'You can't have this gold, Nasreddin. There are nine hundred and ninety-nine coins here, not a thousand.'

'Is that right?' said Nasreddin. 'Then God knows about it, and one more coin is going to come later today. I'm sure of it.'

35 'Listen, Nasreddin,' Ahmet said. 'It's my gold. I threw it over the wall and you must give it back.'

'I can't do that,' answered Nasreddin. 'You don't understand. God is working through you.' ^③

Now Ahmet was angry. 'I'm going to take you to court. I want my gold back!'

40 'All right,' said Nasreddin. 'Let's speak to the judge about it. But I can't go to court in these poor, dirty clothes. Can I wear your coat?'

Ahmet wanted to go to court at once because he wanted to get his gold back that day.
So he gave his coat to Nasreddin.

‘Now, let’s go,’ Ahmet said, and he walked out of the door.

‘Wait a minute,’ said Nasreddin. ‘I’m an old man and the court is far from here.
45 How can I walk there?’

Ahmet stopped. ‘It’s not far,’ he said angrily.

‘It is for me,’ answered Nasreddin. ‘I have a bad leg.’

‘All right,’ said Ahmet. ‘You can have my horse for the day. Wait a minute.’

So Ahmet brought his horse for Nasreddin to ride.

50 ‘Now we can go to court,’ said Ahmet. ‘You can ride the horse. I’m going to walk!’

‘Wife, watch my gold coins carefully,’ said Nasreddin before he left. ‘Because sooner or later God is going to send me one more coin.’

Nasreddin and Ahmet arrived at the court.

When the judge saw them he asked, ‘Why are you here?’

55 ‘Because,’ answered Ahmet, ‘this man, Nasreddin, has nine hundred and ninety-nine of my gold coins! He must give them back to me.’

‘Is this true?’ the judge asked Nasreddin.

‘No, it isn’t,’ answered Nasreddin. ‘This money came to me from God because I prayed for it.’

60 He went nearer to the judge and said quietly to him, ‘I’m sorry but this poor man, my neighbor, is mad. All of my things are his things, he thinks. Ask him about this coat.’

‘Is this your coat?’ the judge asked Ahmet.

‘Of course it is,’ answered Ahmet. ‘I gave it to Nasreddin.’

‘You see!’ said Nasreddin quietly to the judge. ‘Now, ask him about the horse.’

65 ‘Is this your horse, too?’ asked the judge.

‘Yes, it is,’ answered Ahmet.

‘Poor man,’ said the judge. ‘You don’t need a court. You need a doctor. You must say sorry to Nasreddin, and give him one gold coin — at once!’

Nasreddin took the gold coin from Ahmet.

70 ‘I thank God for this,’ he said happily. ‘Now I have the last of my thousand coins.’

Nasreddin and Ahmet left the court and went home. Later, Nasreddin gave back the coat, the horse, and the thousand gold coins to Ahmet.

‘These are your things,’ said Nasreddin, and he smiled. ⑤ ‘But remember, never come between God and man again.’

karate, skateboarding, sport climbing, and surfing. Skateboarding, sport climbing, and surfing are very popular, especially among young people who think that such sports are beautiful and exciting. These kinds of sports are called extreme sports. Extreme sports, also known as action sports, are played at high speeds, and are high risk. Levels of danger are different from sport to sport, but a combination of speed, height, and danger attracts both players and its fans. So, what is the difference between extreme sports and traditional sports? There are two main points separating them. The first point is about (A). People often think that only individual sports are extreme. A sport like rugby is dangerous, but people do not think that it is an extreme sport. The main reason for this is that it is a team sport. In many cases, when you find two or more players in the sport, it will not be seen as an extreme sport. The second point is about marketing. For example, a traditional sport, skiing, is a fast and dangerous way of getting down a mountain, and it's an individual sport. However, it is not an extreme sport. On the other hand, snowboarding has a more extreme image than skiing, because it is newer than skiing. What's more, the extreme sports are shown on TV in the United States, and they are getting popular with many people. To get customers, large companies give support to the athletes or hosts of the games. These two main points separate traditional sports and extreme sports.

Extreme sports are dangerous. Sadly, there are a few athletes who get seriously injured every year. Why do many people enjoy extreme sports? There are some reasons why they love extreme sports. First, some of them believe that they are fun. Extreme sports athletes practice hard to be better at the sports. During practice, they can grow mentally and physically, and get pleasure from such a dangerous activity. Second, some athletes are interested in dangerous sports for economic reasons. Extreme sports are now big business, because people can watch them on TV in the United States, and large companies put a lot of money into the sports for their business. If athletes win, they will have a chance to get a lot of money from these companies. Some players earn their living by taking part in the games. Lastly, other athletes enjoy extreme sports because they want to show that they are brave. Extreme sports have a lot of risks and there are many things that athletes cannot control during the games. Under difficult conditions, they want people to think that they are not afraid of these risks. For these reasons, many people enjoy extreme sports.
