次の英文を読み、後の問いに答えなさい。

昔、ミャンマーという国にある老人と娘が住んでいた。彼の娘は若くて素敵な男性と結婚し順風満帆な生活を送っているようだった。しかし、その男性は働かず、土から金を生み出すという錬金術師になることでお金を得ようとしていた。そして、その夢をかなえるためにお金を費やし、やがて夫婦の生活は苦しくなり、妻は夫と話し合うことを決意した。

‘Husband, why don’t you try to find a job? We’re very poor and hungry!’ she said to him one day.

‘But can’t you see that I’m very near to finding the secret!’ he replied. ‘When I know how to turn dirt into gold, we’ll be richer than you can ever imagine!’

5 Perhaps it was true that he was always very near to finding the secret. But he never found it. After many weeks, life became more and more difficult. Sometimes there was no money for food in the house. So the young wife went to talk to her father. The father was surprised to hear that his son-in-law wanted to be an alchemist. He asked to speak to the young man the next day.

10 ‘My daughter has told me about your plans,’ he said to his son-in-law. ‘When I was young, I too wanted to be an alchemist!’

① The young man was very happy. Here, at last, was someone who could understand his dream. The father-in-law asked about the young man’s work, and the two of them started talking about different ways of trying to turn dirt into gold. After two hours
15 talking about the things that an alchemist must do, the old man jumped to his feet.

‘You’ve done everything that I did when I was a young man!’ he shouted. ‘I’m sure you’re very near to finding the great secret. But you need one more special thing to change dirt into gold, and I only learned about this a few days ago.’

20 ‘One more special thing?’ asked the son-in-law. He thought talking with the old man was getting more and more interesting.

‘Yes, that’s right. ② But I’m too old,’ he said. ‘It’s a lot of work and I can’t do it now.’ ‘I can do it, Father-in-law!’ shouted the young man.

25 ‘Hmm, perhaps you can,’ said the old man. His voice was suddenly quiet. ‘Listen carefully. The special thing is a silver powder that grows on the back of the leaves of the banana plant. This is a magic powder.’

‘Magic powder?’ asked the son-in-law. ‘What do you mean?’

30 ‘Listen,’ replied the old man. ‘To get this powder you must plant bananas, lots of bananas. And you must plant them yourself. While you plant each banana seed you must say special magic words. Then when the plant grows, you’ll see the magic silver powder on the leaves.’

‘How much magic powder do we need?’ the young man asked at once, very interestedly.

‘One kilogram,’ the old man replied.

35 ‘One kilogram! We’ll need hundreds of banana plants for that!’
 ‘Yes,’ said the old man, ‘and that’s why I can’t do the work myself, I’m afraid.’
 ③ ‘Don’t worry! I’ll do it!’ said the young man.
 And so the old man taught his son-in-law the magic words and gave him enough money to start planting the bananas.
 The next day, the young man bought a field. He planted the banana seeds just as 40 the old man told him to do. He quietly said the magic words while each seed went into the ground. Each day he looked carefully at the little plants. He made sure that there were no banana flies on them. When the bananas came, he carefully took the silver powder off the banana leaves, and put it into a special bag. The banana plants grew quickly and the young man worked hard every day.
 45 The only problem was that on each plant there was very little silver powder. So the young man had to buy more fields and plant more bananas. It took seven years, but at last the young man had one kilogram of silver powder. He ran to his father-in-law’s house.
 ‘I’ve got enough magic powder!’ he shouted.
 50 ‘Wonderful!’ replied the old man. ‘Now I can show you how to turn dirt into gold!’
 ④ ‘But first your wife must come here. We need her too.’
 When she arrived, the old man asked his daughter, ‘While your husband was getting the banana powder, what did you do with the bananas?’
 ‘I sold them in the market,’ the daughter said. ‘We’ve lived on that money for these 55 seven years.’
 ‘Did you save any money?’ asked the father.
 ‘Yes,’ she replied.
 ‘Can I see it?’ asked the old man. So his daughter hurried home and came back with ten big bags. The old man opened them and saw that they were full of gold. He took all 60 the coins out of one of the bags and put them on the floor. Then he took the banana powder and put it next to the gold.
 ‘You see,’ he said, turning to his son-in-law, ‘you’ve changed dirt into gold! So you are an alchemist in a way, after all. And what’s more, you’re now a very rich man!’
